69.          To understand who/what lulzsec/gn0sis are/is you need to understand where they came from.
70.          Everything
71.          originates from the *chan (4chan/711chan/etc.) culture. This internet subculture is
72.          pretty much the
73.          dregs of the internet. It's a culture built around the anonymity of the internet. If
74.          your anonymous
75.          no one can find you. No one can hurt you, so your invincible. The problem with this
76.          ideology, is it's
77.          on the internet. The internet by definition is not anonymous. Computers have to have
78.          attribution.
79.          If you trace something back far enough you can find its origins. So let's give a brief
80.          event timeline
81.          on how these groups got together:
82.
83.          1. Anonymous rises up from 4chan against CoS.
84.          2. Anonymous starts DDoSing stuff.
85.          3. Various lower level hacking groups get involved.
86.          4. Anonymous stagnates for a while.
87.          5. Uprisings in the world Attract Anonymous.
88.          6. ProjectPM Looser Barrett Brown becomes mouth piece of Anon.
89.          7. Anonymous shifts focus toward "Worldy" Affairs.
90.          8. Aaron Barr decides he's tired of his job and targets Anon.
91.          9. gn0sis (Uncommon) comes out of no where and releases the Gawker data.
92.          10. gn0sis teams up with anon hackers with all the OP<INSERT SOMETHING HERE> crap.
93.          11. gn0sis (nigg, eekdacat, uncommon, kayla, lauralie) and sabu (from OP Anon shit)
94.          hack HBGary.
95.          12. This is where Topiary comes in. They all form lulzsec to be "hacktivists".
96.          13. Lulzsec (now a mix of gn0sis and opanon people) hack SONY and other stuff.
97.
98.          The problem with Lulzsec/gn0sis's "Hacktivist" mantra is that they lack the skills to keep
99.          it going.
100.          As such after SONY they couldn't get into anything. So they switched their focus to just
101.          releasing
102.          random crap that didn't mean anything. Then they started running out of things they could
103.          hack. So
104.          they put out requests for people to join them. That got them a few hits, and now they've
105.          switched

95.         their gears again to be "ANTI-SEC". Whether or not this was an attempt at bring other groups out of
96.         the shadows (el8, h0no, zf0, etc), you can only speculate. But as of this writing:
           6/24/2011 Sabu
97.         and Topiary are the only two people updating the twitter and releasing shit. Kayla is
           MIA. The
98.         gn0sis kids are gone in hiding somewhere.
99.
100.        From what we've seen these lulzsec/gn0sis kids aren't really that good at hacking. They troll the internet
101.        and search for sqlinjection vulnerabilities as well as Remote File Include/Local File
           Include bugs. Once
102.        found they try to download databases or pull down usernames and passwords. Their releases
           have nothing
103.        to do with their goals or their lulz. It's purely based on whatever they find with their
           "google hacking"
104.        queries and then release it.
105.
106.        What's funny to us is that these kids are all "Anti-Sec" yet by releasing their hacks they are forcing these
107.        companies to have to hire security professionals which keeps the Security Industry that they are trying to
108.        expose and shut down, in business. I guess they will realise that later in life when they get out of skid
109.        school.
110.
111.        So we've been tracking and infiltrating these kids since the gawker hack. We have the D0x
           (as they call it)
112.        on everyone except Sabu and Kayla. First we'll go with the kid who did the gawker hack:
           Uncommon.

250. Now let's look at EE or EEKDACAT:
251.
252. How to find EEKDACAT:
253.
254. EE Uses those Busy Box Bounces that were dropped in the lulzsec/gn0sis private channel logs (which were leaked).
255.
256. bounce: 89-38-2-102.tcnnet.com.br (189.38.2.102) Hacked Busy Box IP (from Nigg).
257.
258. We back hacked him all the way back to his Home IP in Sartoga NY.
259.
260. originating ip: 74.67.45.11 cpe-74-67-45-11.nycap.res.rr.com (saratoga ny)
261.
262. Now this kid actually hacks stuff. He goes around and does his little google query hacking thing. Fing's his SQLinjections
263. He then goes and downloads the databases. This is the kid who helped Uncommon with the attack on Gawker.
264.
265. Here is a big log of all the things he's hacked and is hacking. Along with proof that he was using a stolen router (which we back hacked him from)

913. Now we know that some other people have passed some stuff (senate.gov) to lulzsec (you will be owned soon mindwar).
914. We think that with these kid's exposed as long as other people stop passing lulzsec hacks that it will eventually die off.
915. Kayla and sabu lack the skill to do anything more then go after the low hanging fruit. Now keep in mind lulzsec will try
916. to claim that gn0sis isn't part of lulzsec or that no one is lulzsec. They will also try to claim that these d0x are corrent.
917. If you look at these attacks demonstrated here, this is all the stuff that lulzsec hasn't released
yet and probably wont release
918. because as of this writing gn0sis has split from lulzsec. Which is why lulzsec is request help from outside sources. Because
919. Sabu and Kayla lack the skills to hack anything on their own. Sabu and Kayla are the ones responsible for HBGary (gn0sis found 920. the vulnerability vector though). This is evident in kayla's dumping part of the shadow file to our spies:
